CAPTAIN GERSHOM MOREHOUSE.

THOMAS MOREHOUSE, the immigrant ancestor, was in Wethersfield, Conn., as early as 1640. In 1641 he removed to Stamford, and was one of the original twenty-nine white settlers of that town who purchased it of the New Haven Colony, who had previously bought it of the Indians for one hundred bushels of corn.—See New Haven Colonial Records, 1638 to 1649, pp. 45 and 199.

In 1653 he settled in Fairfield, and died there in 1658, leaving widow Isabel (who is supposed to have been a second wife and not mother of his children) and children Hannah,² Samuel² (who had five sons), Thomas,² Mary,² Jonathan² (who married Mary Wilson, daughter of Edward, of Fairfield), and John² (who was an ensign in King Philip's war, 1676, and settled in Southampton, L. I., where he died October 10, 1701, leaving children John,³ Mary,³ and Phebe³).

THOMAS MOREHOUSE,¹ as believed, was the ancestor of all the Morehouses in America; any assertion to the contrary needs confirmation. His name was sometimes spelled in the early records Moorhouse, and at least one branch of his descendants now spell their name Morhous; it is believed that another has adopted the orthography of Morris.

His descendants were found in New Jersey near Newark, Elizabeth, etc., among the old families and settlers, before the Revolution; in Saratoga Co., N. Y., and the northeastern counties of that State; and throughout the west. Those of southwestern Connecticut and of Dutchess and Putnam Counties, New York, are believed to have descended from the son Samuel² through his four sons Samuel, Jr.,³ Thomas,³ John³ and Daniel,³ who married Hannah, daughter of Lieutenant Abraham Adams, of Fairfield, Conn.

I. THOMAS,¹ by the records appears to have purchased in Fairfield on the 6th of August, 1653, twenty-four acres of land on Sasco Hill, a beautiful location near the Sound, and on the 16th day of the same month he purchased of Henry Jackson the first, and for many years the only, grist mill in the town. In September of the same year he was one of the deputies to the General Court at Hartford. He died in August, 1658. His eldest son Samuel² was the executor of his will, and was given a double portion of his property including his houses, barn, mill and mill lot, and other land. His body was probably buried in the southeastern part of the old cemetery in Fairfield.

Samuel and Thomas were made freemen by the General Court, October, 1664.—Colonial Records, Vol. I.

In the 1st Book of Record of Stamford is found the following :

The lands & housing now in possession of Thomas Morehouse, and bounded and butted, Viz.: Two dwelling houses, two barns & out houses belonging hereunto with two house lots containing six acres more or less bounded by John Chapman on ye north & Every Sharon on ye south butting ye highway on the west to widows estate. And 8 other peices are described.

3 May 1649.

2. SAMUEL,² son of Thomas,¹ was born as early as 1637, and died 1687 in Fairfield, Conn., and was buried in the old village cemetery; his grave stone bears the oldest date of any yet found in the grounds; it was discovered by Mr. A. W. Morehouse in June 1880, nearly buried in the earth, and by him reset. He married Rebecca, daughter of William and Rebecca Odell, who came from England to Concord, Mass., in 1639; removed to Southampton, L. I., in 1642, and soon after settled in Fairfield. Samuel² was very often one of a committee appointed by the town to act in the layout of lands and highways. He was lieutenant of the military company, and the first marshal or sheriff of Fairfield county for some twelve years being removed by order of Sir Edmund Andross. The records show several grants of land to Samuel² from the town, besides one of the "long lots"—which was surveyed back from the village in half mile widths for a distance of twelve miles, with a roadway between each lot, extending north to the highway, now running east and west from Redding Center across Redding Ridge to "Goodrich Hill." These lots were surveyed by order of the town and at a time when it was feared that the "Crown" would claim all unoccupied land. Samuel² undoubtedly assisted in the survey, and one of the roads was called the Morehouse road. Their children were: Samuel,³ Thomas,³ John,³ Daniel³ (born 1678, "Ensign," died May 24, 1739, aged 61), James,³ Rebecca,³ Elizabeth,³ Hannah,³ Mary,³ and Ann.³

The will of Samuel³ bears date December 9, 1687, and shows that at that time his sons John,³ Daniel,³ and James,³ were under 20 years of age; and that his daughters Hannah,³ Mary,³ and Ann,³ were under 18; also that Rebecca³ and Elizabeth³ had been previously provided for and were, therefore, probably married. In the signature the name is "Sam ll Moorhous."

THOMAS,³ son of Thomas,¹ married a daughter of Ralph Keeler of Norwalk, by whom he had Jonathan,⁴ Thomas,³ Nathan,³ Gideon,³ and Mary;³ and by Martha, daughter of John Hobby of Greenwich (Jonathan Hobby was an early settler in Greenwich, and this John was probably one of his sons), had son Lemuel, baptized November 1, 1696; in his will gives his wife and son Lemuel all his estate, and says he has given his children by his first wife their full share.

GIDEON,³ son of Thomas,³ lived in Fairfield. His wife Mary was probably the person of that name who died in Redding September 13, 1780,

Probably the one from Chestnut Ridge was Stephen Morehouse. Again, on page 68, that the Rev. Mr. Caner of Fairfield says he preached or lectured once in three weeks to about twenty families at Chestnut Ridge (Redding). On page 173 "that a second and larger church had been built at Redding in 1750."

4. GERSHOM, SR.,⁴ son of John,³ was born November 18, 1703. He married Sarah, daughter of John Hill, April 22, 1725. To them was born a son Gershom,⁵ November 25, 1727, and a daughter Elizabeth,⁵ January 3, 1730. Ruth⁵ was born December 23, 1733. Evidently the family removed to Redding in 1737. He and his wife were admitted as members of the Redding church May 8, 1737, "on recommendation of Rev. Mr. Hobart of Fairfield."

5. GERSHOM, JR.,⁵ son of Gershom, Sr.,⁴ was born November 25, 1727, and married Anna Sanford January 18, 1748, who survived him many years and died, as it reads on her tombstone, July 27, 1822, aged 90 years and 6 months.

Gershom, Jr.,⁵ entered the Revolutionary army as a private, was appointed 1st Lieutenant 1st Conn. Battalion March 15, 1777, and afterward promoted Captain. He was in command of a company at the battle of White Plains. His son-in-law, a Captain in the British troops, was in the same battle, and they were permitted to meet after the action, under a flag of truce, to confer on family matters.

Thomas Sanford, an American loyalist, was a Captain of Cavalry in the "British Legion" during the Revolutionary war.—See Sabine's American Loyalists.

He married Tabitha⁴ daughter of Gershom³ and removed with his family to Montreal at the close of the war, where he was afterward accidentally drowned. He is supposed to have received a pension from the British government. It is believed that descendants of Capt. Sanford are still residing in Montreal.

Gershom, Jr.,⁵ died in Redding, January 22, 1805, aged 77 years. His tombstone, as well as that of his wife, may be seen in excellent condition in the old unused burial ground just west of the Congregational church in Redding.

The children of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ and Anna Sanford were :

Ezra,⁶ baptized April 28, 1754.

Billy,⁶ baptized July 18, 1756.

Jane,⁶ baptized November 4, 1760.

Anna,⁶ baptized June 19, 1764.

Hill,⁶ baptized May 5, 1765.

Lucy,⁶ baptized July 12, 1767.

Betty,⁶ baptized August 6, 1769.

Elizabeth Ruth,⁶ baptized November 10, 1771.

Polly,⁶ baptized May 15, 1774.

Tabitha,⁶ no record of baptism.

Owing to the fact that the records of the Episcopal Church in Redding, previous to 1833, have been lost, the records of the Morehouses of this generation are necessarily incomplete. The facts must be chiefly gained from other sources. Sabine's "American Loyalists," and the will of Gershom⁵ throw some light on the matter.

In Sabine's "American Loyalists of the Revolution" mention is made of three Morehouses as follows:

(1) "Morehouse, Daniel, of Connecticut, a member of the Reading Association. He became an officer in the Queen's Rangers, and retired at the close of the war on half pay. He went to New Brunswick and was a magistrate and major in the militia. He died in the County of York in 1835, aged 77."

(2) "Morehouse, James. A grantee of St. John, New Brunswick, in 1783."

(3) "Morehouse, John, of Connecticut, a member of the Reading Association. He settled in Nova Scotia and at his decease was one of the oldest magistrates in the Colony. He died on Digby Neck in 1839, aged 78."

It appears that "Reading Association" was an association in Redding who were pledged "to defend, maintain and preserve, at the risk of their lives and property, the prerogatives of the crown and the privileges of the subjects, from the attacks of any rebellious body of men, any Committees of Inspection, of Correspondence," etc.

It is difficult to identify either of the parties named with certainty, though it seems probable that as Daniel and John were members of the Association that they must have resided in or near Redding. As Daniel died in 1835, aged 77, he must have been born about 1758, and by the same process it is found that John was born about 1751, probably, therefore, they were of the same generation as the children of Capt. Gershom,⁵ and may have been sons of one of his brothers.

Descendants of John Morehouse are very numerous in and about Digby, Nova Scotia, and are represented as being very worthy people, noted for honesty and morality.

Stephen,⁴ brother of Gershom, Sr.,⁴ as appears, "was founder of the Episcopal parish in Redding," and as many of the Episcopalians of the Revolution were loyal to the crown, it seems probable that Stephen's family must have been brought up in that faith, and that the Daniel and John mentioned may have been his grandsons.

The will of Gershom,⁵ dated in 1799 and admitted to probate 1805, names Billy and Aaron Morehouse as executors. Besides his wife and the two above mentioned, the following legatees are named: Tabby Sanford,⁶ Jane Osborne,⁶ Lucy Morgan,⁶ Elizabeth Ruth Goodsell,⁶ Polly Barnum⁶ and Daniel,¹ son of Anne⁵ Morehouse deceased. The will can be seen at the probate records in Danbury, Conn.

Tabitha,⁶ daughter of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ married Captain Sanford (see page 24).

Lucy,⁶ daughter of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ married Charles Morgan, farmer, of Hartwick, near Cooperstown, N. Y.

Elizabeth Ruth,⁶ daughter of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ married — Goodsell, a blacksmith and store keeper near Cooperstown, N. Y.

Polly⁶ (Barnum)—daughter of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ record lacking (see will).

Anna,⁶ daughter of Gershom⁵—records lacking (see will), but it is supposed that hers was one of the families which removed to Canada at the close of the Revolutionary war. It is known that her son Daniel,⁷ after his mother's death came to Connecticut and had a home with his grandparents and afterwards with Aaron.⁶

BILLY,⁶ son of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ had a family and resided in the west part of Redding. His children were :

Peter,⁷ married to Ruth Osborn ; their home was in Ridgefield, Conn.

Aaron,⁷ married — Godfrey, and resided in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Ruth,⁷ married Thomas Olmstead ; lived in the west part of Redding.

Tabitha,⁷ married — Sanford, and lived near the pond in the west side of Redding.

6. AARON,⁶ son of Gershom, Jr.,⁵ was born June 2, 1759, died December 3, 1833. His tombstone, and that of his wife, is standing in good order in the ancient ground of the Episcopal church in Redding, Conn. He married Urana Starr (daughter of John Starr, as see history of the Starr family, No. 450, on page 306), who was born November 4, 1768, and died May 2, 1830. In the old Episcopal church yard on Redding Ridge are stones marked as follows :

Here lies Mr. Zacheus Morehouse who exchanged this life for immortality
Oct. 4, 1780, in the 69 year of his age.

In memory of Mrs. Mary, widow of Mr. Gideon Morehouse of Fairfield, who died at Redding, Sept. 13, 1780, aged upwards of 90 years.

The Fairfield Probate Records, Vol. 1754-57, pp. 116-17, show that Gideon Morehouse and wife Abigail had children, Abigail wife of John Lockwood, and sons Samuel, Zacheus, Gideon and John.

Mr. Nelson D. Adams, 732 7th Street, N. E., Washington, D. C.
(maternally of the Morehouse family), is collecting records and facts with a view to the publication of an extensive genealogy of the descendants of Thomas Morehouse, and solicits correspondence with all who may be interested.

Mr. Adams will be greatly aided by Mr. Abraham W. Morehouse,
No. 420 Tenth street, Brooklyn, N. Y. (late of Bridgeport, Conn.), and his collections from town and church records.

Members of the Morehouse family can obtain copies of this little book by sending their address and return postage to either of the above named gentlemen.

It is the hope of the publisher that his imperfect work may stimulate an interest among the descendants of the immigrant ancestor THOMAS, and aid in soon publishing a full and complete history of the family.
